BlackLine

Black Line is an innovative product with a certified antibacterial surface, giving architects and designers the means to create functional interior and exterior projects subject to an increased demand for hygiene.

With a black core and slim design, it combines aesthetics with significant technical advantages. Due to its exceptional durability, ease of maintenance, and complete water resistance, it is a preferable choice for heavy-duty private or public areas.

CERTIFIED ANTIBACTERIAL SURFACES

Certified production control under very stringent health and quality criteria for consumer health protection and product quality performance

SUSTAINABILITY

Whether adorning tabletops or vertical surfaces, Black Line promises to elevate the visual appeal while staying true to sustainability principles.

Manufactured with lower water and energy consumption, it is an eco-friendly wood-based board with a negative carbon footprint.

72%
less Crude Oil

90%
less Water

Replacing core paper with cellulose fiber makes it possible to eliminate kraft paper from board production, saving nearly 90% of the water used in the paper manufacturing process. Moreover, direct fiber coating in pre-manufacturing process reduces resin consumption in comparison to standard HPL.

BlackLine tops
